Best of Input: Television Out of the Box

The World's Most Provocative Public Television Programs

Selections from the world's most innovative and provocative productions by public broadcasters appear at venues around Washington during Best of INPUT.

INPUT, the International Public Television Conference, is an annual producers' screening and discussion showcase. Held in cities around the world since 1978, the conference reviews submissions from over sixty countries. A number of the international jury-selected finalists from the May 2011 conference in Seoul will be screened and discussed.

All programs are free but reservations may be required for certain screenings ▶▶ \(see individual listings\)
